书面表达

Dear Alice,

I know you have some trouble in learning English, and you asked me how to improve your English in your letter last time. I’ d like to give you some suggestions today.

First, you must be interested in English, and realize the importance of it. Moreover, you can read more books, newspapers, and novels which are written in English. What’ s more, in order to write the correct sentences, you’ d better learn some grammar. Besides, listening to music, watching TV and movies are also good choices to improve English. Above all, you should speak English as much as possible so that you can communicate with foreigners freely.
