Once there was a little girl who went to school on foot almost every day. Though it was not fine and clouds appeared in the sky that morning, the little girl made her daily trip to school as usual. When school was over, winds became stronger and it began to rain.

The mother of the little girl felt worried that her daughter would be afraid when she walked home from school and that lightning might frighten her child. Following the bright light of lightning, the mother quickly got into her car and drove to her child's school.

As the mother drove along the road, she saw her little girl walking alone in the rain. To her great surprise, she found that when a lightning came, her daughter stopped, looked up and smiled. Another lightning came and then another followed. With each lightning, the little girl stopped, looked up and smiled.

Inside the car, the mother asked her daughter, "What were you doing? Why did you look up and smile when the lightning came?" The little girl answered with a smile, “ Mum, you know, God was looking at me. Each time I felt a little afraid walking in the rain, God would take a

People usually celebrate their traditional festival. The spring festival is celebrated not only in China but also in other parts of the world. The traditional holiday is the most important to Chinese both home and abroad.

United Kingdom

Celebrations for Spring Festival in the UK started in 1980, with the first evening party held in 2002. Every New Year, people get together and have a lot of activities. They sing songs, dance to music, share photos with friends or enjoy films in a cinema.

United States

Spring Festival has become a key time for Chinese living or working in the US. They join in a large evening party to welcome the traditional New Year. It is a good chance for people to build a circle of friends and feel that they are not alone because they share the same culture and values.

Australia

The Chinese New Year will be welcomed with three weeks of celebrations across Australia. Many people come to Sydney's Chinatown or Little Bourke in Melbourne. They enjoy fireworks, lion dances, dragon boat races and many other traditional activities. The celebrations are also a bridge towards better understanding between Chinese and non-Chinese.

Singapore

The family dinner on New Year's Eve is an important tradition for Chinese whether they were born in Singapore or moved there from China. They place traditional food on a table as an act of remembering their past. Then the whole family enjoys their dinner together. They usually hold it at home because having it in a restaurant takes away the meaning of the tradition.

I am quite sure that you must have seen TV advertisements about hair care products. The models have shining hair like jewels (宝石). But now to make hair shine is no longer the task of hair care products, because hair can be made into real jewels. Believe it or not, a company called LifeGem in the U.S. turns hair into jewels.

The company is in the business of taking hair from dead people and making them into diamonds (钻石). The diamonds are for the families to remember the dead.

Now the company plans to make three diamonds using Beethoven's hair to show their latest technology (技术). The work will take about 7 months and in the end, Beethoven's long hair will become 3 shining diamonds between 0.5 to 1 carat in size.

Since the great musician died in 1827, you may wonder where they got Beethoven's hair. Actually, the hair was given by John Rezniloff, who holds the Guinness World Record for the largest and most valuable collection of celebrity (名人) hair. His collection also includes hair of Napoleon, Albert Einstein, Abraham Lincoln and John F. Kennedy. In total, the collection is worth over 5 million dollars.

Though it sounds unbelievable, to have such diamonds made with hair may be a good way to show respect (尊敬) and love to those who died.

41.What does the company of LifeGem do?

A) It produces hair care product.　　B) It uses hair to make jewels.

C) It is in the business of buying shining hair.

D) It sells expensive diamonds to famous people.

42.Where does Beethoven's hair come from to make the diamonds?

A) His family members.　　B) A hair model.

C) John Rezniloff.　　D) The manager of LifeGem.

43.Why does the company decide to make diamonds out of Beethoven's hair?

A) To show latest technology.　　B) To make the biggest diamond.

更多资料尽在深圳智康 qq 交流群：90482695　　官网：sz.jiajiaoban.com

C) To make the most shining diamond. D) To answer the need of family members.

44.Which of the following about John Rezniloff is TRUE?

A) He could turn human hair into jewels.

B) He owns an expensive collection of hair from famous people.

C) He was a great friend of famous people such as Napoleon and Albert Einstein.

D) He started the company of LifeGem in the U.S.

45.What does the word it in the last paragraph refer to (指)?

A) The collection of celebrity hair. B) The Guinness World Record.

C) The making of hair care product. D) To make diamonds with hair.

It was a winter afternoon. I toured an art museum while waiting for my husband to finish a business meeting. I was looking forward to a quiet view of the art works.

A young couple viewing the paintings ahead of me chatted nonstop between themselves. I watched them a moment and decided the wife was doing all the talk. I admired the husband's patience for putting up with her continuous talk. Distracted by their noise, I moved on.

I met with them several times as I moved through the different rooms of art. Each time I heard her constant burst of words, I moved away quickly.

I was standing at the counter of the museum gift shop making a purchase when the couple came near to the exit. Before they left, the man reached into his pocket and pulled out a white object. He extended it into a long stick and then tapped his way into the coatroom to get his wife's jacket.

"He's a brave man." The clerk at the counter said," Most of us would give up if we were blinded at such a young age. During his recovery he made a promise that his life wouldn't change. So ,as before, he and his wife come in whenever there's a new art show."

"But what dose he get out of the art?" I asked, "He can't see."

"Can't see? You're wrong. He sees a lot. More than you or I do." The clerk said, "His wife describes each painting so he can see it in his head."

I learned something about patience, courage and love that day. I saw the patience of a young wife describing paintings to a person without sight and the courage of a husband who would not allow blindness to change his life. And I saw the love shared by two people as I watched this couple walk away hand in hand.

46.The young couple were at an art museum _____.

A. to show their love B. to appreciate art

C. to discuss paintings D. to describe paintings

47."…I moved away quickly." in Paragraph 3 shows that the writer _____.

A. was in the hope of visiting more rooms B. was in a hurry to buy some gifts

C. was tired of the nonstop talking D. was not interested in the art show

48.We can infer from the passage that the husband _____.

A. was not born blind B. couldn't stand his wife

C. knew nothing about art D. completely depended on his wife

49.After hearing what the clerk had said about the couple, the writer was _____.

A. encouraged B. excited C. touched D. annoyed

50.The passage is mainly about _____.

A. the importance of art B. good manners in public

Last month I paid a visit to China. Chinese education on children really shocked me. I thought many Chinese parents put much pressure on only high school students. But in the following years, I found the pressure came to primary school children, then those of pre-school age, and finally newborn babies and pre-born children.

In order to succeed, one or two years before entering kindergarten(幼稚园)they must study English, drawing, singing, and dancing, and the three years of kindergarten are mostly spent to build up an early lead in primary school performance

What if parents let their 3 or 4 years old child enjoy free time on Saturday and Sunday, after five days in nursery? They would be thought to be wasting their kid's early life. As others do, so must they do.

Yet children have not only the right, but the need to play. Kindergartens should not be a school. There should be no classroom, no lesson, no homework, and especially no exams. Instead, playing should be the first thing for children.

They need to play with others and also to play on their own, as playing is good for learning in a lively way. Children can discover numbers while playing games and the alphabet(字母表) through songs. Some Chinese characters can become familiar to them by being used in games, But the problem with kindergartens is very serious. Chinese parents think studying is more important. Children work hard while having less and less time to play. What these parents fail to realize is that they are following the examples of how not to raise a kid.

51. What's the situation of children in China now?

A. They have much pressure.　　B. They play too much.

C. They have no pressure.　　D. They work hard but happily.

52. Why don't parents let their 3 or 4-yea~old kids enjoy free time? Because

A. kids don't want to play　　B. they have to do what other people do

C. the government ask them to do so　　D. the grandparents ask them to do so

53. What should a kindergarten be like?

A. A school with lessons.　　B. A class with exams.

C. A place where children can play freely.　　D. N place where children only play games.

54. Which of the following is true according to the passage?

A. Only middle school students spend much time in studying.

B. Studying is the most important for children.

C. Children have much time to enjoy themselves.

D. Raising kids doesn't mean making them study.

55. What is probably the best title for this passage?

A. Chinese Education Has Some Problems

B. How to Raise a Child

C. Children Need Time to Play

D. Family Education Is Very Important

V. 书面表达 composition

One possible version:

Recently I’ ve had a discussion with my parents about whether or not I should join the school basketball team.

They don’ t think I am strong enough to be a good basketball player. I might get hurt while playing. And they hope I will spend more time on my studies.

However, I don’ t agree with them. I know they care about me. But becoming a member of the school team is my dream, you know. I’ ll try my best to keep a balance between my study and sport. More importantly, I can learn how to work with others in a team. I can make friends with them. Playing basketball can make me stronger.
