A. Choose the best answer（根据以下内容，选择最恰当的答案）（12 分）

If you are going to apply for a job ,be prepared for the kinds of interviews you can expect .One type of interviews is the telephone interview. Here are some tips for telephone interviews:_____. Before the interview ,guess and write down the questions you might be asked. Practise the answers orally until you are satisfied with yourself. The questions scan be about your working experiences, skills and achievements.

Keep your notes handy. Have any key information next to the phone, including your notes about the company and the questions you have prepared for. Then you can easily get the information you need. In this way, you will sound more prepared.

Avoid salary topics. When you are asked how much money you would expect, it's not wise if you give no response. But it's not right to give an exact number at once. Try to be open to discussion, so you'd better say something like, "If this is the right job for me, I believe we can come to an agreement on salary "

Push for a face-to-face meeting. At the end of the interview, don't forget to sell yourself. You cab say something like, "I am very interested in your company. If possible I'd be really happy to see some of your managers. I am free either Tuesday afternoon or Wednesday morning. Which would be better for you?"

Try to rearrange surprise interviews. If you receive an interview call without any expectation, you can politely ask them to arrange another time for the interview, so you can be better prepared. Try something like, "I am sorry but I can't do it right now. Can I call you back tomorrow after work, at 6p.m.?"

After the telephone interview, only a few are left for face-to-face interview, so get prepared and good luck!

C. Write down the answers D. Predict the questions

71. The underlined word "handy" in paragraph 3 is closest in meaning to _____.

A. easy to get B. easy to recognize

C. easy to hold D. easy to understand

72. Which might be the best response to the questions about salary?

A. I am expecting a salary of $5000 month.

B. My salary requirements can be discussed.

C. May I not answer your question?

D. I don't mind at all.

73. At the end of the interview, you should _____.

A. talk to some of the managers B. try to ask for a meeting

C. tell them where you live D. let them introduce themselves

74. You'd better_____ if you receive a surprise call from the interview.

A. not answer the call　　B. ask someone else to answer it

C. ask for another interview　　D. Start you interview at once

B. Choose the best answer and complete the passage (选择最恰当的选项完成短文)（12 分）

Have you ever been in a meeting and suddenly found that your mind was a million miles away while someone was making a speech? You probably felt __75__ and made up your mind to pay attention and never daydream again. Most of us, from the earliest school days, have been told that daydreaming is a waste of time.

"On the contrary," says an expert in psychology, "daydreaming is quite __76__. Without it, the mind couldn't do all the thinking it has to do in daily life. You can't possibly do all your thinking with a conscious mind. __77__, your unconscious mind is working out problems all the time. The unconscious and conscious states of mind have a silent dialogue in the way of daydreaming."

Early experts in psychology paid no attention to the __78__ of daydreaming, and even considered it harmful. They did not have a better understanding of daydreams until the late 1980s. Eric Klinger, a professor of psychology, is the writer of the book Daydreaming. Klinger says, "Now we know that daydreaming is one of the main ways that we organize our lives, _____79__ our experiences and plan for future." Daydreams really show the things we fear and the things we desire in life.

Daydreams are usually very simple and direct while sleep dreams may be hard to understand. It's easier to gain a deep understanding of your life by paying close attention to your daydreams than by studying your sleep dreams __80__. Daydreams help one recognize the difficult situation in life and find out a possible way for dealing with them.

So next time you catch yourself daydreaming, don't stop.

Franco's father was walking up and down in the hall, waiting for the doctor. On seeing Doctor Ken, the father shouted, "Why did you take so long to come? Don't you know my son's life is in danger? Don't you have any sense of responsibility?"

Doctor Ken smiled and said, "I am sorry. I wasn't in the hospital and I came as fast as I could and now, I wish you'd sit down and be patient so that I can do my work."

"Be patient?! What if your son was in this room right now? If your own son dies while waiting for the doctor, then what will you do?" said Franco's father angrily.

Doctor Ken smiled again and replied, "We will do our best and you should also pray for your son's healthy life."

The operation lasted several hours. Then Doctor Ken went out of the operating room happily. "Thank goodness! Your son is saved!" And without waiting for the father's reply he ran out of the hospital, saying, "If you have any question, ask the nurse."

"Why?" complained Franco's father, "He couldn't even wait some minutes so that I can ask about my son's state."

The nurse answered, tears coming down her face, "Doctor Ken's son died in a road accident. He was at the burial（葬礼）when we called him for your son's operation. And now that he saved your son's life, he left running to finish his son's burial."
